The powers are now fully committed to the coercion of Turkey and the execution of a policy that promises to create a situation of the first importance to the world at large. An international fleet of about 20 warships will assemble in Greek waters a few days hence, and a so-called demonstration will take place either at the entrance to the Dardanelles or at some Turkish port in Asia Minor. The object is to compel the Sultan to accept a scheme of finan-cial reforms in practically the whole of European Turkey. The scheme, in a nutshell, provides for the collection of taxes by local authorities, such as the village headmen, the whole to be under the supervision of a representative of the

The Sultan regards the present demands as a direct infringement of his sovereignty—in effect, a notice to quit Europe. He will never yield; indeed, he cannot do so. He has since attained the object of his 30 years' ambition. Thanks chiefly to the Armenia massacres, which were allowed to go unpunished by Europe, and his

How often do we hear women say: "It | Dear Mrs. Pinkhan

How often do we hear women say: "It seems as though my back would break." or "Don't speak to me, I am all out of sorts?" These significant remarks prove that the system requires attention.

Backache and "the blues" are direct symptoms of an inward trouble which will sooner or later declare itself. It may be caused by diseased kidneys or some uterine derangement. Nature requires assistance and at once, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound instantly asserts its curative powers in all those peculiar ailments of women. It has been the standby of intelligent American women for twenty years, and the ablest specialists agree that it is the most universally successful remedy for woman's ills known to

Surely such testimony is convincing. Mrs. J. G. Holmes, of Larimore, North Dakota, writes:

Dakota, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I have suffered everything with backache and womb trouble—I let the trouble run on until my system was in such a condition that I was unable to be about, and then it was I commenced to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If I had only known how much suffering I would have saved, I should have taken it months sooner—for a few weeks' treatment made me well and strong. My backaches and headaches are all gone and I suffer no pain at my menstrual periods, whereas before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered intense pain."

The Season's Fashionable Dress Stuffs.

Superb chiffon cloths of finest texture and luster lead the line of winter fabrics for fashionable street and earriage gowns. There is an indefinite distinction about the quality of these cloths which renders them beyond comparison with ordinary grades not only in smoothness of surface, but in colors and slades, many futs of which re confined to our special stock. Their wide range of colors and shades admits of their use for evening gowns and wraps, and their softness and pliability lead grace to any length of skirt or loosely failing wrap.

The bread windows in our new department supply full natural light in which to examine them; the roomy aisless and capacious counters all conduce to a manuer of shopping and inspection to be experienced only in our house.
